We're studying Matthew 5:1-12 during the Sundays of January through February focusing on different verses each week. It is suggested that you read the entire portion each time you complete your study sheets to profit from the context.

1. Hunger and thirst are natural functions of our physical bodies. Those needs must be satisfied on an ongoing basis if we are to maintain our physical health. Discuss how that relates to our spiritual health.

Physical hunger and thirst are innate to humans. What is the source of the hunger and thirst spoken of in our verse?

Discuss how the things we choose to satisfy our hunger and thirst (both physically and spiritually) determine the quality of our health (both physical and spiritual).

Can there be such a thing as a self-imposed “famine” in the life of a believer? Explain.

2. Regarding this verse, David Jeremiah writes, “There is no happier feeling than knowing we have confessed and repented of our sin and are forgiven by God.” Comment on his statement.
3. How does this verse correlate to Psalm 42:1-2, 63:1, 143:6; Proverbs 21:21; Matthew 6:33; John 6:35; Colossians 3:2?
4. The verse ends with the promise that “they shall be filled/satisfied.” “The verb here...is [in] a ‘divine passive’ voice that describes an act of God.<sup>1</sup>” What does that mean regarding the righteousness of which the verse speaks?
